Organisation Overview

Name: Kaya Home & Living

History: Kaya Home & Living opened as a single storefront in 2018, selling locally made homeware, textiles, and decor pieces sourced from small South African artisans and suppliers. The store has since become a well-regarded destination for handcrafted home goods, but has grown almost entirely through foot traffic and word of mouth. The owner now wants to reach customers beyond the immediate area and offer online purchasing.

Mission: To make beautifully made, locally sourced home decor accessible to a wider audience while supporting South African artisans and small-batch producers.

Vision: To become a leading online and in-store destination for locally made home goods in South Africa.

Target audience: Primarily homeowners and renters aged 25–55 with an interest in interior decor, sustainability, and supporting local makers; secondary audience of gift-shoppers looking for unique, locally made items.

Website Goals and Objectives

Goals

1. Launch a functional online store to sell products beyond the physical shop's local catchment area.
2. Increase overall revenue by opening a new, low-overhead sales channel.
3. Build an email list for repeat marketing and seasonal promotions.
4. Showcase the story behind each product/artisan to differentiate from mass-market retailers.
5. Provide store location, hours, and stock information for in-store shoppers.

Current Website Analysis

Kaya Home & Living currently has only a basic Instagram business profile and a single-page Google Business listing; there is no dedicated website or e-commerce capability.

Strengths of Current Online Presence

- Strong, visually appealing product photography already exists on Instagram.
- Engaged local following built up over several years.

Weaknesses

- No way to purchase products online — all sales require an in-person visit.
- No searchable product catalogue, pricing, or stock information available digitally.
- Instagram algorithm limits organic reach; the business has no owned channel independent of the platform.
- No email capture, so there is no direct way to re-engage past customers.

Areas for Improvement

1. Introduce a proper e-commerce storefront with secure checkout.
2. Create a searchable, categorised product catalogue with clear pricing and stock status.
3. Add email capture and a lightweight loyalty/promotions programme.
